

I urge you not to pursue further deregulation which will eliminate current restrictions on media ownership. These restrictions are absolutely necessary if American citizens are to have fair and balanced media coverage on important issues of the day. The FCC was established as a watchdog of corporate media, to protect the rights of the citizens with regards to the public airwaves. To make decisions based on what is best for corporate conglomerates is not your job. Please protect Americans' rights to hear differing points of views on our airwaves.

Sincerely,
Nancy Staus
